TJ Brennan Headed to Buffalo
Former Little Flyers Signs 3 Year Deal with Sabres
April 28, 2009

Former Philadelphia Little Flyer, TJ Brennan has signed a 3 year entry level contract with the Buffalo Sabres, starting in the 2009-10 season. Brennan reached an agreement with Sabres GM, Darcy Regier early last week.

Brennan spent his last 3 seasons playing in the QMJHL (Quebec Major Junior Hockey League) with the St. John's / Montreal Franchise.

In his career with St. John's, Brennan played in 192 games where he racked up 116 points. In the 06-07 season he was named Defensive Rookie of the Year.

The 20 year old from Willingboro, NJ was selected 31st overall. Brennan will look to add some youth and speed to the Buffalo Sabres defensive core. The AJHL would like to wish TJ the best of luck with his future in professional hockey.
